

George's Marvellous Medicine

By Roald Dahl

George lived on a farm, far from anywhere.

One day, George was alone in the house with Grandma. She was the most horrible Grandma that ever there was.

She was grouchy, and grizzly and grumpy.

George decided that what Grandma needed was some special medicine.

George went all over the house to find things to put in his marvellous medicine for grouchy Grandma.

George put all the ingredients into a pan to mix a magic medicine for his grumpy Grandma.

The problem was, George didn't know what his medicine would do to Grandma.

It made her grow very fat....

...and very tall!

That is why you must never try to make George's marvellous medicine at home. It could be dangerous.
